The Hongkong Telegraph

HONGKONG, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1882.

In the Government Civil Hospital the other night a very old resident of Hongkong passed away, let us hope to a better world, unrecorded, unlamented. ROBERT KENTWELL, familiarly known in some circles as "Kwo Achong's" tout, whilst pursuing the ordinary course of his uninteresting, purposeless life, was suddenly and grievously stricken with mortal sickness; he was removed to the Hospital, and treated with all the medical skill and attention provided by a paternal government for its unfortunate children; but human aid came too late—at all events it proved of no avail—and the worldly troubles of "one more unfortunate" ended with his earthly existence. Under ordinary circumstances there would be nothing particularly striking in the death of a wretched man, who had outlived his time; but there happens to be one or two trivial incidents, matters of comparatively little moment to the outside world probably, connected with the exit of the poor, worn-out tout from this terrestrial sphere which it would be almost criminal to pass unnoticed.

So far as we can learn, ROBERT KENTWELL had lived in Hongkong, off and on, for a period of some 30 years. He knew the Colony when it was a mere skeleton of what it has since become. In the days of General Jervois, Sir GEORGE BONHAM, Sir GEORGE BOWRING, and other celebrities, most of whom preceded him to that bourne, from whence there is no return. Captain KENTWELL—the poor old tout was a master mariner although we believe he held no Board of Trade certificate—had a share of the plunder that was plentiful in these parts during the "good old days," and knew Shanghai right well when the Tiao-ping rebels held possession of that prosperous city in 1852-3. He was also no doubt a frequent visitor to the City of Rams during the occupation of the British and French from 1857 to 1861. In later years he was in the service of the late Mr. KWOK ACHONG, and at various times held command of several of that enterprising merchant's coasting steamers. Like many others of his class KENTWELL could not resist that curse of the Far East—the inordinate indulgence in spirituous liquors—and as in all such cases, the result was inevitable. Gradually descending the social scale year after year, the lowest rung of the ladder was almost reached when Mr. KWOK ACHONG died, and from that time

KENTWELL'S occupation was gone, and the once respected ship captain quickly became a confirmed loafer. It is needless to trace an unfortunate career through its last gloomy stages; the man's health could not withstand the ravages of time—and ruin—and the curtain finally fell on the closing scene, as we have already stated, at the Government Civil Hospital on Thursday last.

As Horace very sagely puts it Mors ultima linea rerum est. With all of us, as with ROBERT KENTWELL, the grave is a boundary line which separates frail humanity from everything worldly. We cannot doubt that the souls of wretched and unfortunate men of the class of the subject of these remarks, must yearn to cross the boundary line which divides us from "the great unknown." And it is in this last refuge of the destitute, this haven of rest even for the pariahs of the world that all mankind stand on an equality. To again quote the famous Roman lyric poet

Pallida mors æquos pulsat pede
Pauperum tabernæ regumque turres.

ROBERT KENTWELL is at rest in the Happy Valley free forever more from all earthly troubles, and it is doubtless better thus. We have no intention of crying the coronach over the grave of this unfortunate man, as we are disposed to consider his final departure from his daily haunts as something very like what pious undertakers with so much professional unctuousness term "a happy release." But we live in a Christian country; we are a civilised people flourishing under the most enlightened government the world has ever seen; we have philanthropists by the dozen, and missionaries and priests by the score in our midst, humble (?) delegates of God himself, men who arrogate to themselves certain well defined rights and privileges—and responsibilities, for which they are in most instances sufficiently well paid even in filthy lucre; and we do say that the manner in which the mortal remains of ROBERT KENTWELL were consigned to his Mother Earth would have degraded and disgraced a heathen far less a so-called Christian community.

Captain KENTWELL either had no friends or relatives in Hongkong, or he must have worn their friendship threadbare during the latter years of his life. At all events but for the kindly feeling of a few Naval Yard policemen, who probably knew him in better days, and who subscribed amongst themselves a sufficient sum to provide a decent coffin, he would have been stowed away in a rough deal box, and unceremoniously consigned to a pauper's grave. The charity and good feeling of a few humble policemen prevented this degradation, but the disgrace which was to follow could neither have been foreseen or averted. For reasons we are not in a position to explain there was not a sufficient number of the dead man's countrymen at his funeral to carry the coffin from the hearse to the grave, so that it was necessary to secure the aid of several Malays. A couple of Europeans, members of the Naval Yard police force were, in fact, the only representatives of English civilisation that followed an unfortunate countryman to his lowly grave. On arriving at the Roman Catholic cemetery at Wong-nei-chong it was found that not only was there no priest in attendance, but the room in which the clerical vestments were kept, was locked and inaccessible except to violence. It happened, fortunately, that one of the Naval Yard officers was a man of ready resource. They could not keep poor KENTWELL's body above ground until a priest could be obtained from the city, so the best thing possible under the circumstances was immediately carried into effect. The door of the room above referred to was burst open, the clerical robes were taken out, and a Chinaman read the burial service prescribed by Mother Church as the body of ROBERT KENTWELL was lowered into its native element. Is further comment on this scandalous indecency necessary or desirable? Perhaps not, and yet these things should not, cannot be hidden. If it be true as GEORGE HERBERT says, that the consciousness of duty performed gives us music at midnight; the two policemen of Her Majesty's Dock Yard must be happy men. They nobly paid a sacred debt we all owe to the dead. But on whose shoulders rests the responsibility for what we say was a disgraceful sacrifice, discreditable alike to the government and sacerdotal authorities? The history of a British Colony should be a history of humanity; but unfortunately in these advanced days a selfish Phariseism is the guiding spirit both in the civic and ecclesiastical policy of the philanthropic rulers of mankind. ROBERT KENTWELL may not have been a very good man; he probably was not worthy of a great deal of consideration; but he was a British subject in a British Colony; and after dying in a British hospital it was surely incumbent on the paid servants of the government to see that he was not flung into a grave like a dead dog.

TELEGRAMS.

LONDON, December 4th.

ARABI'S SENTENCE.

Arabi Bey has been sentenced to death; but the death sentence has been commuted to exile.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

H.M.S. Swift returned to Shanghai from Hankow on the 30th ulto.

The steamship Niigata Maru docked at the Cosmopolitan Dock this afternoon.

The visitors to the City Hall Museum for the week ended 3rd December, were—European 203, Chinese 2,534; total 2,737.

We read that at a meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Egypt, the Duke of Connaught accepted the post of Grand Warden. His Royal Highness was received with great enthusiasm.

The Lisbon Official Gazette publishes the ratification of the Treaty of Friendship and Commerce concluded in 1875 between the Governments of Portugal and the Transvaal Republic.

At a meeting of Zealand Lodge, No. 525, held last night, Wor. Bro. C. L. Gorham was re-elected to fill the Master's chair for another year. Brother E. Herbst was again chosen for the post of Treasurer, and Brother J. Grimble as Tyler.

ADMIRAL Sir G. T. Hornby, K.C.B., has been appointed Commander-in-Chief at Portsmouth, vice Admiral P. Ryder; and Vice-Admiral W. Luard has accepted the Presidency of the Royal Naval College, Greenwich, vice Admiral Sir G. Hornby.

A CHINESE widow, "wash amah" to Mr. A. Millar, plumber, was charged by her master this morning, before Mr. Wodehouse, with creating a disturbance in his house, shouting and using violent language, &c. She was bound over in $5 personal security to behave herself properly for three weeks.

AN emergency meeting of Lodge St. John, No. 618, S.C., for the installation of the R.W.M. Elect, and the investiture of the Officers elected for the ensuing year, will be held in Freemasons' Hall, Zealand Street, on Monday evening, the 11th instant, at 8 o'clock for 8.30 precisely. The installation ceremony will be performed by V. Wor. Bro. C. P. Chater, District Grand Master of Hongkong and South China, assisted by the Grand Lodge officers.

The Courier of the 30th November, says:—Two Chinese who had been sentenced to death by strangulation, suffered the extreme penalty of the law yesterday afternoon. One of the culprits had killed his brother and the other had taken the law into his own hands and slain a thief. The condemned men were tied to stakes, and a rope was fastened round their necks, in the form of a tourniquet, which, being tightened gradually, strangled the culprits.

THE Shanghai correspondent of The Times has long played the part of the Cassandra of Chinese politics; and in this character he sent home the other day a homily on the subject of "The Decay of China," which appears to have attracted a great deal of attention. The main fact on which he seems to base his discouraging conclusions is the falling-off that is said to have taken place in the population of the province of Chekiang. In 1812 the official census returned the population at 26,250,000, while the result of a census the other day gave it as only 11,570,000—a very striking decline, if the figures are equally accurate. Strangely enough, the impressions formed by European travellers of this particular province have been exceptionally favourable as regards both its prosperity and population. There appears little doubt, however, about the fact that a large portion of Chekiang has not yet recovered from the effects of the Taeping war; and the Peking Gazette contains frequent references to the steps being taken towards establishing settlements in its southern part and along the sea-coast. But the Shanghai correspondent ignores the increase that has of late years taken place in Schuen, Kansuh, and Yunnan; while the unanimous testimony of travellers, go where they will in China, is that the race is very prolific and very numerous.—St. James's Gazette.

We regret to note from Shanghai papers that the Italian Opera Company have had, so far, a very unsuccessful season in the Model Settlement. The new director, Signora Silini, has issued a subscription list for a second series of operatic representations, in which she observes:—"The previous subscription has proved so very small and the receipts at the door of the theatre so very scanty, that should these conditions last during the whole of the present season, I fear that I shall suffer very heavy losses. Nevertheless, the acquisition by our company of new and good artists, obtained at a very considerable cost, and the excellent selection of our theatrical repertory, inspire me with the hope that our efforts to cater for the musical public of Shanghai, so celebrated for their own skill and taste in lyrical entertainments, will meet with more recognition than we have so far received, and enable me to recover at least the very heavy expenses necessarily incurred." Commenting on this appeal to the public, the Courier suggests that a reduction in the prices all round is more likely to reimburse her for her great outlay than any other means she can possibly devise. We expect that a limited Portuguese community is the secret of Italian Opera not proving a draw in Shanghai. Were it not for the support of the Portuguese and German residents, an Italian Opera troupe would find the utmost difficulty in clearing expenses even in musical Hongkong.

PATRICK RILEY, a seaman, was up this morning before Mr. Wodehouse charged with drunkenness, disorderly conduct, assaulting the police, and not paying his wheelbarrow hire, quite a long string of offences. Constable Hadden tried to induce Riley to square the 'ricksha coolie, but for his pains, got kicked and struck by the defendant, who was drunk, and whom Hadden thereupon ran in. Admitting the long catalogue of offences recorded against him, Mr. Wodehouse fined Riley a dollar or three days' hard labor for the assault, and ordered him to pay the vehicle driver 30 cents or do a further two days' Patrick came up to time, smiling, and doled out the dust.

THE Shanghai Mercury, of the 30th ulto, says:—We do not see any reason to suppose that Sir Thomas was not coming back. When he passed through Shanghai he said he should return unless his Government did not require his services. Therefore the telegram received last week implied that the Government wanted to make a change. We have no reason to suppose that the Foreign Office have changed their views about China, and unless they have returned to Lord Palmerston's views on the subject, we do not see anything to be gained by removing the present British Minister, much as we may criticise his policy. We believe he proposes to stop a short time longer until he has earned his diplomatic pension.

BEFORE the Marine Magistrate to-day, the master of the junk Hop-lee was charged by Inspector Swanson with furnishing untrue particulars in regard to his junk. It appears that upon clearing here on the 30th ulto, the defendant represented his cargo to consist of 100 piculs of salt, with 10 of a crew. Inspector Swanson, while on his way from Stanley to Victoria early this morning, met the junk leaving Aberdeen, and found the cargo was composed of saltpetre and sulphur, to the extent of 200 piculs, and that there were 15 of a crew on board. A fine of $50 or three months' hard labor was imposed. The junk would appear to be a proper smuggler, being provided with fighting nets on the outside, and it seems she had attempted to get off with her contraband cargo, but was chased back from Capingmoon by the revenue cruisers; hence her falling across the path of Inspector Swanson. She was provided for shooting purposes with 12 muskets.

INSPECTOR Hennessy made another big haul of gamblers last evening in a house in East Street. Nineteen men, chiefly rice-pounders, were captured, but one unfortunate would seem to have played his last little game. He either jumped or fell out of one of the windows, a height of some 40 feet, fracturing his spine. The certificate from the Superintendent of the Civil Hospital states his injuries will prove fatal. The other 18 gamblers were fined $10 each this morning by Mr. Wodehouse. A number of fighting irons and poles were found with them, which, it appears, they had been using on the informers whom the Inspector had sent into the house in front of him. The prisoners are nearly all big men, and presented quite an imposing spectacle as they appeared ranged in line along the front of the dock, one man, deeply pockpitted, towering above the others in the centre of the line. Mr. Wodehouse discharged the man in hospital with the fractured spine, but it is very unlikely that this measure of grace will be of any benefit to him.

THE case against two Chinamen and two Chinawomen for deceiving nine Annamese girls into the Colony for an unlawful purpose was further remanded this morning by Captain Thomsett until the 12th instant. The girls, it will be remembered, were brought from Hapi-wan in the steamship Mell. They claim to have been kidnapped, having been, according to the evidence given by them this morning, first drugged, some through the medium of cakes, and others by betel nuts, after eating which some of them became insensible, while others lost control over their action, feeling themselves as it were forced to follow the woman who gave them the cakes and nuts to eat, and who, unfortunately, is not in custody as she got ashore here on the arrival of the Mell. One of the male defendants said to-day that girl No. 6 was a prostitute, and that he bought her and brought her here. The other male defendant said he brought girl No. 8 here to be his wife. One of the female defendants said girl No. 1 was married to her nephew, and she had brought her here. Correcting herself she afterwards said she meant the girl was to be married to him. The other female defendant said she came to Hongkong with the 3rd defendant, and that she had nothing to do with the girls.

THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

The Legislative Council met this afternoon for the despatch of an unusually long list of public business, the agenda comprising no fewer than 14 items. There were present:—His Excellency the Administrator (the Hon. W. H. Marsh); the Hon. Sir George Philipps, Chief Justice; the Hon. J. Stewart, Acting Colonial Secretary; the Hon. J. Russell, Colonial Treasurer; the Hon. J. Macneille Price, Surveyor General; the Hon. P. Ryrie, and the Hon. F. B. Johnson, unofficial members. The minutes of the last meeting, held on 5th September, having been read and confirmed, His Excellency the Administrator said he was sorry to inform the Council that the Attorney General was unwell, in bed, he believed, and unable to attend. His Excellency also mentioned that he had received a telegram from the Secretary of State, containing the three words, "Boven appointed Governor." He had no further information upon the subject. The Hon. the Acting Colonial Secretary laid on the table the minutes of the Finance Committee relating to several votes which required confirmation. Having been read by the Clerk of Council, Dr. Stewart moved that they be passed. Amongst them was a vote of $6,410 for the conversion of No. 3 steam engine in floating engine at a cost of $6,410, for which the Administrator said he had received the approval of the Secretary of State, and that the work had been in hand some time. The Hon. F. B. Johnson remarked on the item of $3,795.67 for cost of the photographs of the Island taken upon the occasion of the visit of the princes, George and Albert Victor, and commented at some length upon the irregular manner in which the vote came before the Council. His Excellency said he did not think it necessary to make any remarks on the subject. The payment was made before his arrival, and the only responsibility he had was in reporting it to the Secretary of State, as he was bound to do. It was not for him now to express any opinion on the matter. The Hon. P. Ryrie asked if the item would not appear in some statement sent home, to which the Administrator replied in the negative. Mr. Ryrie said he thought there had been photographs of afforestation and public buildings taken before this. His Excellency said he had never heard of it, and Mr. Price observed none had ever been taken here previously. Some discussion then arose as to the responsibility of the Acting Auditor General and Acting Colonial Treasurer in the matter, Mr. Price remarking that if they acted under the orders of the Governor their responsibility would be less, and that that should be borne in mind. Mr. Ryrie said the whole thing was a blunder, and that the Secretary of State said the cost should not have exceeded £100. Mr. Johnson then moved for certain statistics relating to crime to be laid on the table, introducing his motion by references to the alleged severity of punishments in the Colony and to State-created crime, which allegations, he said, rendered it desirable to take the discussion out of the region of conjecture and transfer it to that of fact. To one remark of the Hon. member, Mr. Ryrie took vigorous exception, namely, as to any portion of decrease of piracy being due to the action of the revenue cruisers. A piracy, the hon. gentleman said, took place close to one of these cruisers and they never interfered to prevent it. He could not agree with his honorable friend. Our early hour of going to press precludes our giving the proceedings at greater length to-day.

MEETING OF HONGKONG VOLUNTEERS.

A meeting of residents interested in the Volunteer movement, was held at the City Hall last evening. Mr. Tripp, who occupied the chair, explained the object for which the meeting was called, which was to pass the rules and regulations drawn up by the Committee appointed at the previous meeting. He invited any comments or suggestions those present might wish to make in reference to the rules and regulations, which he then read. The first election of officers would be by members of the corps, and the names of those chosen would be submitted to the head of the Government for confirmation. Due notice of the time the election would take place would be given, and it was desirable the matter should stand over for a while, so as to allow members time to make up their minds as to the best men for their officers. He impressed upon the meeting that the rules as to enrolments, resignations, and dismissals must be strictly obeyed. Those who had any objection to offer to rule 20 should make it now.

Mr. Francis called special attention to the same rule, by which members bound themselves to obey the rules, and mentioned that in the same way as members bound themselves to submit to the rules of a club, members of the Volunteers were liable to be expelled if they violated them. The success of the corps depended upon the voluntary submission of the members to the rules drawn up, and therefore rule 20 was introduced. Members would do well to consider the rules thoroughly before they signed them, so that there might be no complaints hereafter. From his own experience of Volunteer matters he considered such a rule necessary. If any one objected, let him do so now. No objections having been offered by any person present, the Chairman, after remarking that he thought the uniform proposed was a neat one, said he considered the rules as to drills were not hard ones. Three drills a week were required of recruits; the attendance of effective members, being voluntary, but the latter must be present at not less than 12 Commanding Officer's parades during the drill season, sufficient excuse for non-attendance being admitted. In reply to an enquiry as to whether a member would be fined for not attending when other engagements interfered, it was pointed out that, by the rules, fines would be only imposed where reasonable excuse was not offered.

Mr. Francis also said there would be a Commanding Officer's parade each week, so that a member who could not attend one could be present at the other, and thus complete the requisite number of attendances in six months.

Dr. Stockwell proposed, and Mr. Francis seconded, that the rules as read be adopted, which was carried unanimously. Mr. McCallum enquired if members would be furnished with a copy of the rules. The Chairman said that upon signing the roll each one would receive a copy. Mr. McCallum further enquired if it were likely the rules would be published in the papers. There were a great many not present who would join the corps, and it would be well if they had an opportunity of seeing the rules. Some conversation followed on the subject, the Chairman stating he would see the editors of the three local papers. He enquired of the meeting if they wished the rules, &c. inserted as advertisements.

Mr. Francis said that as the rules interested a considerable section of the community, he thought our newspaper proprietors had public spirit enough to publish them free, and suggested that a copy be sent to the papers. The Chairman then intimated that a day would be fixed for the enrolment of members and he hoped everybody would be punctual, and as Dr. Stockwell's services being given in an honorary capacity, he trusted he would not be kept waiting longer than was actually necessary. The Commandant would attend the enrolment, and Mr. Francis being a justice of the peace, they would have him there also.

The meeting then dissolved.

The following are the rules:—

CONSTITUTION.

1.—The Corps shall be called the Hongkong Volunteers.
2.—All the inhabitants of Hongkong, of whatever nationality, who are willing to take the oath of allegiance prescribed by Section 8 of Ordinance 2 of 1862, and who shall be approved by His Excellency the Governor, are eligible as members of the Corps.

3.—Members shall be divided into Honorary Members and Effective.

4.—Effective Members are those who satisfy the following requirements:—

(a) They shall be within the prescribed limits of age, if any.

(b) They shall be passed by the Honorary Surgeon of the Corps as physically fit for duty as Grenadiers.

(c) They shall have attended the prescribed number of parades during the last preceding drill season and shall have passed in squad and company drill, and in at least one description of gun drill.

6.—Honorary Members are entitled, on signing the roll as Honorary Members, and on payment of an annual subscription to the fund of not less than $5, to wear on all public occasions the uniform of the Corps and to take part in all shooting matches and other amusements of the Corps, but are not liable to be called on to perform military duty, and shall have no voice in the management of the fund of the Corps.

7.—Effective Members of the Corps, who are temporarily absent from Hongkong for any period exceeding six months, shall rank as Honorary Members without payment of any subscription and shall be entitled to be restored to the roll of the Corps as Effectives on their return to the colony, if they desire it.

8.—The Effective Members of the Corps shall be formed into Batteries to be known as A, B, C, &c. Batteries according to the number thereof.

9.—The strength of a Battery shall be 1 Captain, 2 Lieutenants, 4 Sergeants, one of whom shall perform the duties of Battery Sergeant Major and Quarter Master Sergeant, 4 Corporals, 36 Gunners, and 1 Trumpeter. Total 48.

10.—The Commandant of the Corps shall be a Military Officer appointed by His Excellency the Governor.

11.—There shall be a Major and in command, to be appointed by the Governor from among the Volunteer Officers.

12.—The appointment of officers is vested by the Ordinance in the Governor of the Colony, but His Excellency has consented to select the officers from a list of names to be chosen by the Volunteers themselves.

13.—At this election all gentlemen who shall have enrolled themselves as Members other than Honorary Members shall be entitled to vote.

14.—All subsequent promotions and appointments among the officers shall be made by the Governor.

15.—The appointment of non-Commissioned Officers vests in the Commandant. Promotions among the non-Commissioned Officers will be, as a rule, by seniority.

The Chairman also read the following rules which were drawn up relative to the election of officers by the corps:—

The first election shall be as early as possible after the formation of the Corps and shall be by ballot.

A week's notice shall be given of the place and time of the election.

Each Member voting shall write on a slip of paper the names of a number of gentlemen enrolled as Members of the Corps corresponding to the number of Officers to be elected, and shall place the same folded in the ballot box which will be kept open for one hour from the time appointed for the election.

The Commandant shall act as scrutineer and shall at once declare the result of the voting and report the same to His Excellency the Governor.

At the first election all gentlemen who shall have enrolled themselves as Members other than Honorary Members shall be entitled to vote.

ENROLMENTS, RESIGNATIONS, AND DISMISSALS.

16.—All Ordinance Members of the Corps shall sign the roll of the Corps, each stating opposite his name whether he joins as an Honorary or Effective Member, and the latter shall take the oath prescribed by the Ordinance.

17.—All Members desirous of qualifying as Effective Members must first be passed as physically fit by the Honorary Surgeon of the Corps, who will attend in the Ordinary Room of the Corps, every Monday and Saturday from 6 to 8 p.m., for the purpose of passing recruits.

18.—The Honorary Surgeon will on each occasion make out and sign and return to the Commandant a list of the gentlemen passed by him.

19.—A Justice of the Peace will attend at the Ordinary Room at all convenient times to administer the oath of allegiance, and the Commandant will attend at the same time to enroll members named by the Honorary Surgeon.

20.—Every Member on joining the Corps shall be furnished with a printed copy of the Rules and Regulations and by his signature of the Roll binds himself to the observance of them, and of any Rules and Orders to be made by the Commandant for the better governance of the Corps under the Ordinance or under these Rules.

21.—Effective Members of the Corps leaving the colony for any period exceeding one month shall give at least 14 days' notice, in writing, to the Captain of his Company and shall return his clothing in good order and condition.

Any Member disobeying this Rule will be subject to a fine not exceeding $5 at the discretion of the Commandant.

22.—Absent Members will be retained on the rolls of the Corps as Effectives so long as the date of notice of departure and after the expiration of said period will be transferred to the list of Honorary Members.

23.—Members desirous of resigning must give 14 days' notice in writing to the Captain of the Corps, and must within the 14 days return into Hongkong in good order and condition their arms, accoutrements and clothing, and pay up all fines and subscriptions due from them; and they shall remain subject to the Ordinance and to the Rules and Regulations of the Corps until they have done so to the satisfaction of the Commandant.

24.—Any Member of the Corps whose conduct as a Volunteer or otherwise shall be so objectionable as to warrant the Commandant in expelling him from the Corps, shall, by the Commandant's order, be required to resign, and if within 7 days after such request he shall not tender his resignation, or apply to have his case submitted to a Court of Inquiry, he shall be summarily dismissed from the Corps and his name removed from the roll. Any member refusing to obey the orders of the Commandant to resign shall be deemed to have resigned.

Commercial.

THIS DAY.

Business on the Stock Exchange has again been of an important character. Banks have been dealt in rather extensively both for cash, and "on time." For cash a fair number of transactions have been booked at 169 per cent. premium; and for December 31st a lot of shares have changed hands at 171. When our report left the stock was very firm, with cash buyers at 169. Canton Insurances have also been in good demand lately. After transfers at 110 and 115 the quotation jumped to 125, and at this rate there are several buyers, but no sellers. Although we have not been able to trace any actual business in the Dock Company's scrip, it is in better request than has been the case for several days. Cash buyers offer 55 per cent. premium; but holders decline to deal at that figure. Steamboats are also slightly firmer, an order for a small lot of shares at 31 per share premium remaining unexecuted. If 32 were tendered, we think business might be done. Indo-China Steam Navigation scrip is offered at 1 per cent. premium, without leading to business. We have to report sales of Luzons at 115, for cash, and probably a few more shares might be placed at quotation. No other stock need be specially alluded to.

4 o'clock p.m.

The only share transactions that have come under our notice since we last wrote, have been some further sales in Banks for cash and on time for the end of the year at 169 and 171 per cent. premium respectively.
